President's Message

by James E. Burns, D.D.S. – NODA President

Hello my NODA Family. For those NODA members that attended the 2022 version of the New Orleans Dental Conference/LDA Annual Session, I say thank you. For those that didn't attend; I still love ya. But boy, you really missed out as the young people say. Co-Chairs, Dr. Kristopher Rappold and Dr. Keith Kyler did an unbelievable job of organizing a top-notch conference that all Louisiana dentists should be proud of. Drs. Rappold and Kyler delivered an impressive event that provided outstanding education for all registrants.

On the Saturday of the Conference, we had our annual Louisiana House of Delegates. I would like to thank President-Elect Dr. Aubrey Baudean, Jr. for organizing and managing NODA's Delegate Contingency. This is not an easy task being that we have the largest (22) delegate constituency in the state. I would also like to thank all the dentists that showed up very early on a Saturday to represent NODA at this event and as usual, NODA was represented by truly the best of the best. Along those same lines, we also had Dentists' Day at the Legislature on April 27th in Baton Rouge. Thanks to all those people that took time out from their practice to attend this. I consider myself blessed to be the President of such a dedicated group of professionals. Please consider volunteering for one of the above-mentioned events. NODA would benefit from your talent.

Alright, now time to talk about my favourite NODA event, our Annual Crawfish boil. This year it will be on Friday, May 13th at The Kamp in Harahan from 5:00-8:00pm. As usual, we will have more than enough crawfish and fixings and drink for all that attend. This will coincide with our General Membership meeting for May. We will have no speaker, but we will have entertainment from singer-songwriter Kirk Holder. I was also thinking about belting out a few tunes, but I believe Harahan has a noise ordinance and I don't want the event to be shut down. If you have not received an email for this event, please contact the NODA office to register.

After this event, we will be on our summer break, and we will resume in September with our next General membership meeting. Also, there will be no newsletter for June. I know it will be difficult to get through June without my pearls of wisdom, but you can do it. My two fingers that I type with need a rest. Have a safe and wonderful summer.

Q1 2022 Review: Challenges Trigger a Rocky Start to 2022

by David Lundgren, CFA

After a very solid year for equity markets in 2021, stocks stumbled out the gate in 2022, producing negative results for most major indices for the quarter. After dealing with the pandemic for most of the last two years, it appeared we were turning a corner on COVID, at least here in the United States, and then a new challenge emerged when, on February 24, Russia invaded Ukraine.

As a human tragedy was unfolding with significant loss of life and millions forced from their homes, markets and economies had yet another new challenge to face. Many equity investors rushed to the sidelines until greater certainty could be achieved, leading to increased volatility and the first market correction (decline of more than 10%) for the S&P 500 since March 2020.

Impacts of the Russia-Ukraine Situation

Most of the developed world united and issued sanctions to punish Russia economically for their actions. While these sanctions caused significant financial stress on the Russian economy, markets and currency, the rest of the world felt reverberations as well. While Russia's share of global GDP is only about 3%, they are a significant exporter of natural gas, oil, minerals and agricultural products.

Disruption in the energy markets as a result of sanctions led to a surge in the price of oil and many other commodities. Prior to the invasion, inflation was running at levels not experienced in almost 40 years. The recent surge in energy prices further exacerbated existing inflation problems, reducing consumer purchasing power and in turn threatened to derail economic growth here in the U.S. and abroad.

The Federal Reserve Begins the Inflation Fight

Bonds are generally considered a safe haven during times of market stress, but this quarter was clearly an exception. Surging broad-based inflation, tight labor markets, nagging supply chain bottlenecks and increasingly aggressive Federal Reserve rate hike expectations combined to drive the sharpest quarterly decline in U.S. Treasury returns since the U.S. Treasury index inception in 1973. The broad-based investment grade Bloomberg U.S. Aggregate Bond Index declined -5.9% for the quarter, marking the second worst quarter since the index's inception in 1976.

Tough policy guidance by Federal Reserve policymakers amid soaring inflation played the major role in the quarter's rise in interest rates. The Fed spent the first two months of the quarter completing the wind down of its pandemic related quantitative easing (QE) program and then in March the Fed policy committee voted to raise overnight rates by 0.25% as expected. Fed Chairman Jay Powell's pointedly hawkish rhetoric in his March post meeting commentary caught investors by surprise as he stated rate hikes are on the table at each of the remaining six meetings of 2022. Powell assured listeners the U.S. economy is solid and can handle higher rates. Again, the fixed income markets heard Chairman Powell's message and traded rates sharply higher in response.

It's very interesting, though, that in the weeks following the Fed's launch of an expected string of Fed Funds rate increases, U.S. Equity markets rallied sharply, suggesting markets are encouraged by the Fed's determination to address its inflation challenge in a deliberate and aggressive manner.

Where do we go from here?

The backdrop is a difficult one as the Fed tries to reverse many of its extraordinary pandemic related policies and move back to a more neutral position while navigating a 'soft landing' for the economy. While 1Q22 is likely to be a downbeat correction to the overly robust 4Q21, likely in a 1.5-2.0% Q/Q AR, we continue to expect 2022 as a whole to exhibit solid growth around 3.0%, as the U.S. economy inevitably slows toward long-term norms.

Report of the Executive Director

by Andrew Hale – NODA Executive Director

The three parts of membership – through the New Orleans Dental Association (NODA), the Louisiana Dental Association (LDA) and the American Dental Association (ADA) complement each other. Each level offers valuable benefits and resources to members. Almost all U.S. dentists are tripartite members and they join and maintain their membership through their local association, such as NODA. Membership in all three has many benefits designed not only to help you in your daily practice, but also to further development of the dental profession. As a member of NODA, you're joining together with hundreds of dentists to create a collective voice.

Your membership gives you a voice in organized dentistry through NODA representatives – your colleagues, your friends. Your dues are vitally important in maintaining the effectiveness of organized dentistry as the profession faces challenges in the marketplace, government and regulatory areas.

If you have already renewed your membership in NODA, we thank you for your continued membership and support of the dental profession. If you have not renewed, there is still time to renew and there are different payment options available. Regardless of which payment option you choose, you will continue to enjoy the many benefits and the self-satisfaction knowing that you are advancing the dental profession through local, state and national advocacy efforts. We can't do it without you!

Thank you for continuing to be an important part of NODA. We appreciate your support and welcome your active involvement. By working together, we can protect and strengthen the profession.

"Bless the LORD, O my soul, and forget not all his benefits:" (Psalm 103:2)

GENERAL PRACTICE – HOUMA AREA (#6874)

Gross Collections: $304,805, 3 Days a Week, 3 Operatories, 990 sq. ft. I usually don't recommend satellite practices for you, but this one is the exception to the rule. It's an underperforming practice in an excellent patient to dentist ratio location. The equipment has recently all been updated. The overhead is a ridiculously low 40% and for a day and half per week, a buyer would walk away after all payments and
