MISSION STATEMENT

To establish and maintain a cohesive organization that serves its membership by promoting the art, science and professionalism of dentistry, and by communicating the value of oral health to the community.

VOL. 47 OCTOBER '09 NO. 08

President's Message

by Jeffry A. Leeson, D.D.S. - NODA President

October marks the beginning of the final quarter of 2009 and I am pleased to say that the monthly general membership meetings are continuing to bring an increasing number of members together. This past month's meeting was successful even though there was a competing CE course the same night. I thank you for understanding that the increase in cost for eating at the meeting had to increase to $20. Most establishments want to charge us $30 to $40 plus tax and gratuity. With the help of the sponsors, we are keeping the costs down. However, our sponsorship fee has increased and will continue to increase as the attendance increases. If you would like to attend the meetings and not eat then there will be no charge to the member.

I would like to thank Dr. Christopher E. Brown, our NODA Secretary, for his article on page 9 in last month's NODA News. He put things into perspective for the need to increase the NODA dues for active members from $150 to $200 per year. This $50 increase is the first one since 1994. Active Life Members only pay half price so their increase would only be $25 per year. We all know how rent, insurance, salaries, and other office expenses have gone up in the past fifteen years. The NODA office runs efficiently with the help of Executive Director, Mr. Andrew T. Hale. He has found countless ways to lower expenses for the organization. If anyone believes that the small increase is not needed, please contact me at jeffry@bellsouth.net.

This month's membership meeting is set for Wednesday, October 21st, at the Courtyard on the Ridge, located at 407 Folse Street in Harahan. The speaker will be Dr. Earl M. Douglas and his topic is "The Fifteen Biggest Transition Mistakes". This is pertinent to all dentists, young and not so young. Please check our list of future meeting locations and topics in this edition of NODA News or on the NODA website, at www.nodental.org.

The New Orleans Dental Conference (NODC) committee is finalizing the plans for the 2010 New Orleans Dental Conference / LDA Annual Session. Please mark your calendars and schedules for April 8-10, 2010, so you can attend all three days. The Conference will again be one of the best sources of CE for money.

It is time again to ask for people interested in helping out with NODA by participating on committees to please contact the NODA office or myself. We always need new ideas and more help in keeping the organization growing.

Please continue to check the NODA website to view what is happening in the future. I will be looking forward to seeing you at our next meeting on October 21st.

Dr. Gwen Corbett, a Fortress Dentist.

I live in Baton Rouge, Louisiana. It is a great city full of cajun culture and a love of LSU.

I grew up in the local dental community. My father was a general dentist here for 35 years and my mother ran the office. After dental school, I joined the practice for 4 years before specializing. My father was a very empathetic dentist and an excellent mentor.

I practice endodontics with Drs. Simon and Bond at Root Canal Specialists of Baton Rouge. It's a top notch practice. Our patients are our priority.

I specialized in endodontics because I really liked the focus. Our patients are often in pain and afraid. It is very rewarding to relieve them of both.

I earned my pilot's license in 2006, and am now working on getting my instrument license. It is so exciting to just get in a plane and go flying, such a feeling of freedom.

I enjoy triathlons and racing. Balancing it all with a baby is a challenge. I really appreciate that dentistry gives me flexibility.

I love my family and friends. I have a tremendous friend network. They make my world go 'round.

I admire my mother so much. She's a cancer survivor with a lot of energy and fortitude.

I recommend Fortress professional liability coverage. I like the personal service and the newsletters with the case studies. My agent appreciates my busy schedule and takes care of my needs right away.

Over 10,000 Dentists have chosen Fortress Insurance in the past 5 years.

When you choose Fortress for your Professional Liability coverage, you can be confident that your practice is protected. We are owned and operated by dentists, and only insure dentists. Aggressive claims defense, valuable risk management, and outstanding customer service are why dentists all over the country have chosen Fortress Professional Liability insurance. Our local agents are responsive and knowledgeable too. To get Fortress protection call Stormy Blair or Matt Hightower at Robert Ellis & Associates, 888-503-5547. Tell them

Dr. Corbett sent you.

San Lucas Toliman, Guatemala Mission Trip

By Stan P. Cowley, Jr., D.D.S.

(The three residents of San Lucas Toliman pictured have been working at the clinic since Dr. Cowley visited 14 years ago).

Summertime is a time for fun, travel and vacations with family and friends. I always enjoy this time of year. Despite the many things going on, however, I have found time to fit in a trip to San Lucas Toliman, Guatemala, for seven of the past fourteen years. This summer I planned the trip with two of my three sons and my nephew. To schedule the trip I must first contact Fr. Greg Schaffer, the pastor in the Catholic Parish in San Lucas Toliman. He lets me know if there will be any other dentists working in the clinic at the time I want to go and finds me a place to stay. Fr. Greg's parish is a very vibrant parish in the small city of San Lucas Toliman. We fly into Guatemala City and are picked up in the parish van by Francisco, the parish driver.

After a three hour ride out of the city and into the highlands we arrive in coffee bean country – high altitude, volcanic soil and a moderate temperature all year round. We are taken to a home in the city just two blocks from the Catholic Church and Parroquia, the parish center. The home is typical Guatemalan – a center courtyard with bedrooms on one side and the bathrooms and kitchen across the courtyard. We occupy two bedrooms, all quite simple – merely a bed and night stand for each of us. Our meals are provided by the parish in the Parroquia where the Guatemalan ladies prepare meals for all the volunteers from the United States. The meals are simple, all self serve, cafeteria style. After traveling all day to get there, the opportunity to sit down and enjoy a meal is welcomed.

The next day begins with coffee at 7am in the Parroquia with the proprietors – a group of men in the parish who head different aspects of the parish projects. This is followed by breakfast at 8 with the volunteers. Then it is off to work, a walk across town to the new clinic, a distance of approximately a mile and a quarter.

I Switched To LAMMICO

"When I first started my dental practice, my malpractice insurance was through a nationally known carrier. But it was difficult getting through to someone to help me when I needed them.

Then I discovered LAMMICO, a local company that understands the needs of its dentists. When I have a question, I know I can rely on LAMMICO representatives to find the answer right away.

Now I can concentrate on what's most important to me—my patients. I'm glad I made the switch to LAMMICO."

San Lucas Toliman, Guatemala Mission Trip - con't.

By Stan P. Cowley, Jr., D.D.S.

The clinic, now complete with three fully equipped operatories, is staffed by three full time dental assistants - "tecnicos dentales." When they are not assisting visiting dentists caring for patients, they work with children cleaning their teeth and applying sealants and are involved in the fluoride program for school children.

I was able to work in the clinic five days during this trip. On previous trips, extraction procedures predominated the service I was rendering. This time I was able to do just as many restorative procedures (fillings) as extractions. This was a welcomed sign of progress at the clinic attributable not only to the many dentists who have treated patients there before me, but also to the work of the three Guatemalan assistants. I, like the many other dentists who have gone before me, share my knowledge and experience with these three assistants. I also take the opportunity to learn from them as they are good teachers. They have dedicated their lives to serve God by serving the dental needs of the people, especially the children in their community. By recognizing this attribute in them, I realize this truly reflects my reason for being there as well; to be a humble servant. I, like these dental assistants, use dentistry as a means to promote healing and a better sense of "self," while also relieving bodily pain.

Additionally, as Fr. Greg has so eloquently informed me, my presence in the clinic and on the rocky roads around town enables those people to know, by my mere presence, I have compassion for them. Now that I have been to San Lucas Toliman, these people are not people out there some place, but people who are part of my life. I have become bonded to them in a very special way. I know them and they easily recognize me. I am deeply grateful to share part of the lives of the people of San Lucas Toliman. These experiences for myself and my family have enabled us to not only learn and experience another culture, but also to realize the beauty of their deep faith and strong courage. I look forward to visiting my friends in San Lucas Toliman again.

2009 SCHOLARSHIP RECIPIENTS NAMED

In late July, James M. Sitz of DeRidder, LA, receives the dental school scholarship from LAMMICO employees Fred Kirchgraber, Kendall Ankesheilm & Chammy Allen. Accompanying them, at far right, is Henry Gremillion, Dean of the LSUHSC School of Dentistry in New Orleans.

Funds to be used by Louisiana students entering medical school across state

For the ninth consecutive year, four in-state students will continue their higher education in the medical field; thanks to recent merit awards from the Louisiana Medical Mutual Insurance Company.

"As an organization closely aligned with Louisiana's medical community, our program is intended to retain students who will soon have the opportunity to become excellent contributors to our state's health care system," said Thomas H. Grimstad, M.D., President / Chief Executive Officer of LAMMICO.

Since 2000, Louisiana's largest medical professional liability insurance company has awarded merit scholarships to help defray tuition and other expenses associated with students enrolling at the state's medical schools: Louisiana State University (New Orleans & Shreveport); LSU School of Dentistry - New Orleans and Tulane University. Eligible students for a LAMMICO merit scholarship are incoming freshmen from Louisiana. Students who receive the award do so for one year. The respective institutions award the scholarships based upon merit criteria established at each medical school:

• LSU School of Dentistry - New Orleans

James M. Sitz is a graduate of Louisiana Tech University in Ruston, where he majored in biology. Sitz is originally from DeRidder, Louisiana, where he graduated from DeRidder High School in 2005. While at Louisiana Tech, he graduated with a 4.0 grade point average. LSU trains more than 70 percent of all practicing dentists in the state of Louisiana

• LSU Medical School: New Orleans

Renford Cindass, Jr. of Baton Rouge graduated Summa Cum Laude in May 2009 from LSU, where he majored in biological sciences. He was on the LSU Chancellor's List for academic excellence throughout his undergraduate studies at LSU. Cindass recently enlisted in the United States Army with a current grade of second lieutenant. His goal is to continue a career in the military, where he would like to serve as an Army surgeon.

• LSU Medical School: Shreveport

Emily McIntosh of Farmerville, LA, earned an undergraduate degree in neuroscience from Tulane University in May 2009. She is a 2005 graduate of the Cedar Creek School in Ruston. McIntosh is a member of the William Wallace Peery Society at Tulane, which awards membership to the top 10 students of the graduating class.

• Tulane University Medical School

Jared A. Breaux, originally from Alexandria, LA, is a graduate of Bolton High School there and LSU. Before enrolling at Tulane, he spent this past summer working in free health clinics in Belize. While in Central America, Breaux learned the basics of providing healthcare.
